

Working with PDG Consultants has been a great experience. Their deep expertise in Business Central and AL development has been instrumental in delivering customized solutions for our clients. From automating payables to developing a tool for managing approved dimension combinations, and creating a custom line-item receivable statement, their work has been efficient, precise, and tailored to our needs. PDG Consultants brings both technical skill and a strong understanding of business processes, making them a valuable development partner. I highly recommend them to any Microsoft Partner looking for expert AL development support.
